

Follett Educational Services, Inc.

Fax Permission Form

The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) recently issued new regulations that require your written permission to receive information via facsimile (fax). Like many businesses and associations, these rules change the way Follett Educational Services (FES) conducts business via fax with our established business partners. To comply with the new FCC rules, we ask that you complete and return this Fax Permission Form to receive facsimiles, including information regarding products, services and promotions from FES at the number listed below.
